

The Daily Union Vedette.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, MAY 31, 1865.

Special Police Again.

On Saturday a gentleman residing in Salt Lake City called on us stating that on the preceding evening himself and a friend were calling upon a young lady and while sitting in conversation with her a heavy stone came crashing through the window throwing the broken glass over the person of the lady who sat near the open casement. It was evidently aimed at her and had its course not been arrested by the glass, would have certainly killed her. The gentlemen ran to the door but the villain or villains were not to be seen. Both of these persons are respectable and there could be no possible excuse for such a dastardly attack, except that they are Gentiles.

Not long since several assaults of a similar outrageous character were made and one, perpetrated under precisely such circumstances, came to our notice, but by request of the parties concerned, the facts were not permitted to transpire. It occurred at the house of a prominent Mormon, whose daughter had offended some of Brigham's vigilant "specials" by receiving the attentions of a gentleman—a "Gentile" of course.

The cowardly, ruffianly manner of these attacks reveals more plainly than anything we could say the low, villainous class to which the miscreants who make them belong. No person possessed of the most ordinary instincts of manliness could ever descend to such unmistakable exhibitions of the scurvy poltroon as these valiant demonstrations betray the actors to be. All Mormons are by no means of such base quality as these contemptible hounds but it is equally and undeniably true that they are of the Mormons. They doubtless are of the number that clap their hands in the "Tabernacle" when the "Lion" is there on exhibition. From Brigham's infamous tongue, their uncivilized minds draw devilish inspiration and licensed by his inhuman "counsel," they prowl around the streets under cover of congenial darkness to regulate the morals of the town and wreak such revenge as their savage hearts suggest on men whose principal offense consists in being their superiors.

Ignorance is less a fault than a misfortune and may well excuse deeds which were unpardonable in men of more intelligence. While uncultivated minds are usually drawn headlong by unbridled passions, they are yet more easily controlled by a superior intellect, linked to a determined will than men wont to exercise their own reason. Under the direction of an unscrupulous leader they become the most ductile instruments of villainy and nothing can be more dangerous to society than such a combination, from whatever cause it comes.

This is precisely the condition of affairs in Salt Lake City, and from this source have come the thousand and one atrocities which have degraded humanity and stained the records of Utah since Brigham Young supplanted the rule of civil savages by a power more potent for mischief and little less barbaric. Who believes that these acts of violence would continue one day if not countenanced by him? Nor an intelligent man, be he Mormon or Gentile, who has cognizance of the notorious facts. He introduced the villains to the audience from the stand in the "Tabernacle," and instructed them publicly in the parts they were to play. They only fail in crime in just so much as they have fallen short of his directions.

Who then, is to blame and who should be held responsible for outrages committed? The wretched creatures, who lie low in convenient ditches to waylay the passers by, especially if a lady should chance to be under escort; or skulk about the premises of quiet citizens, who happen to show a little hospitality by admitting to their houses even a bated Gentile stranger, to break in their doors and smash their windows with paving stones? No indeed—these wretches are to be pitied and properly chastised if caught. But for him who controls and incites them to such dirty work, there should, and shall be, some day, a more fitting punishment.

Within the month he has openly boasted of having "a good many wives and expected to have a great many more," defiantly challenging the Government to prevent him. Well, the last proposition may prove true, but we hope somebody will pardon us for doubting if Great bodies move slow, but when they move vermin is very apt to get crushed.

IDAHO CITY IN ASHES!—A letter received by yesterday's mail, from Mr. John P. Baker to P. C. Richards, Esq., dated Idaho City, May 20th, was shown us, and from which we extract the following sad intelligence:

"The city of Idaho was reduced to ashes night before last. It was fired about ten o'clock at night, and half the entire business portion of the city was destroyed. A few buildings on the south and south west, including the Catholic and Methodist Churches, a brewery, soda factory and one house of ill fame, are the only public institutions that are left. Everything is burned up, except what was stored in fire-proof cellars. Flour ranges from $80 to $100. Lard, bacon, sugar and coffee, $1. Board two dollars per meal."

WHAT SCHOFIELD DOES.—Major Gen. Schofield, as commander of the Department of North Carolina, has more immediate control of the administration of affairs in that State. He disposes of all business in a quiet and military manner, and wins the good opinion of every one. The General is a great topographer, and has the roads quite as well mapped out in his head as his efficient Chief Engineer, Brevet Lieutenant Colonel Twining. He is a close questioner, and I have been frequently amused to hear him cross-question citizens, about roads and lanes in sight of their homes that he seemingly knew more of than they. One citizen, after being thus closely questioned, turned about and asked of the General if he hadn't lived about there. "For," said he, "you know a heap more about these roads than I do."

THE NATIONAL MOTTO.—In the national anthem occur these words:

"Then conquer we must,
For our cause it is just,
And this be our motto:
In God is our trust."

The Government has decided that the motto, "In God is our trust," shall hereafter be stamped upon coin issued from United States Mints. This is a proper recognition of the Great Creator who has so wonderfully shaped the destinies of this nation and preserved it from dangers which human foresight and human strength could not have averted.

The following beautiful lines written by Longfellow, have been printed on large cards and hung up in all the bureaus of the Government:

"For the stars on our banner grown suddenly dim,
Let us weep in our sorrow, but weep not for him;
Not for him who departing leaves millions in tears
Not for him who has died full of honor and years,
Not for him who ascended Fame's ladder so high,
From the round at the top, he has stepped to the sky.
It is blessed to go when so ready to die."

GEN. ORD'S ORDER published in the Richmond Wing of the 24th, directs that if any paroled prisoners of the Confederate army are mechanics, and who desire to remove northward with their families for the purpose of obtaining work, will, upon taking the oath, be transported to Philadelphia, New York or Boston.

TRIAL OF THE PANAMA PIRATES.—A military Commission has been convened in this City, by order of Gen. McDowell, under instructions from Washington, for the trial of the rebel pirates who were arrested off Panama while attempting to seize the steamer Salvador, on the 10th of November last. It will be remembered the capture was made by the officers of the United States war steamer Lancaster. The desperadoes were provided with arms, ammunition, uniforms, Confederate commissions and colors, etc., and had shipped as passengers on the Salvador, intending to seize her at sea, and convert her into a pirate craft to prey upon Pacific commerce. The names of those captured are as follows: T. E. Hogg, alias Erson, who was to be captain of the new privateer; E. A. Swain, acting Master's Mate; John Hiddle, acting Chief Engineer; F. J. Grady, acting Assistant Engineer; J. L. Black, acting Assistant Paymaster; R. B. Lyon, Sailmaker; Joseph Higgins, Paymaster's Clerk, together with several others who were subsequently released for lack of sufficient evidence to warrant their detention. The parties named were brought here on the Lancaster, the Panama authorities having refused permission to take them across the Isthmus to New York.

The trial has been postponed until this time on account of the absence of many of the witnesses, and for the reason that many of the original documents, consisting of letters of marque from Jeff Davis, and commissions from Malloy, the late rebel President and Naval Secretary, together with a Confederate flag, all of which were found in their possession, had been sent to the Navy Department at Washington. These documents and evidences were received here from the Secretary of the Navy on Friday last, and the timely arrival of the United States steam frigate Lancaster, with the officers who effected the capture of the would be pirates, completes the chain of testimony. The Military Commission assembled at the United States Circuit Court room at 10 o'clock this morning, but owing to the absence of some of its members at Sacramento, an adjournment was taken until to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock. The following officers are detailed as members of the commission:

Col. Edward McGarry, 2d Cavalry, C. V.; Lieut.-Col. Abrose E. Hooker, 6th Infantry, C. V.; Lieut.-Col. Robert Pollock, 2d Infantry, C. V.; Maj. Andrew W. Bowman, 9th U. S. Infantry; Major Ralph W. Kirkham, Quartermaster, U. S. Army; Maj. Alfred Morton, 7th Infantry, C. V.; Maj. Samuel P. Smith, 2d Cavalry, C. V.; Capt. John D. Devin, 9th Infantry, U. S. Army; Capt. Gilbert C. Smith, Assistant Quartermaster, U. S. Volunteer; Capt. Morgan S. Grover, 8th Infantry, C. V.; Capt. Francis D. Todd, 8th Infantry, C. V.; Capt. Lewis T. Grant, 8th Infantry, C. V.; Captain Edgar W. Hillyer, 4th Infantry, C. V., is appointed Judge Advocate.—S. F. Bulletin.

STABILITY OF OUR GOVERNMENT.—The following private letter from Hugh McCulloch, Secretary of the Treasury, to the Sub Treasurer, is of interest and importance:

My Dear Sir: You will perceive that the new Administration is inaugurated, and the wheels of Government are not stopped for a moment. My hope is, and my belief is, that this great national calamity will teach to the world a lesson which will be of the most beneficial character to our republican form of government; that it will show that the assassination of our Chief Magistrate does not affect in the slightest degree the permanence of our institutions, or the regular administration of the laws; that an event which would have shaken any other country to the center, does not even stagger for a moment a Government like ours. Very truly yours,

H. McCULLOUGH.

John A. Stewart New York

INTERNAL REVENUE DECISION.—The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that Government vouchers are to be treated as securities, and any person who makes it a business of dealing in them must take a license as a broker.

Mr. Everett and Judge Story were at a public dinner. The ordinary toasts were given, when Judge Story arose and said: "Fame follows fortune wherever it (Everett) goes." Everett replied: "Here's to the legal profession. It has never got above the first story," (Story.)

JEFF DAVIS' PITY.—About three years ago, that eminent sinner, Jeff Davis, in the midst of a succession of daily murders, became convinced that he had experienced a change of heart. He joined the most fashionable church in Richmond and, surrounded by a large and curious crowd, was confirmed—in his sins. Not two weeks ago the same church was filled with rebel officers and people. The assembly in piety had become a veteran. He had not only murdered and tortured half a million of men by violence, but he had deliberately and in cold blood, starved thousands of his fellow men to death. On the memorable Sunday, he sat in his pew with a bowed head whitened by the effects of his long course of discipline. An orderly strode up to the aisle and touching him on the shoulder handed him a slip of paper. The paper said:

"My lines is broken: Richmond must be evacuated by midnight."

R. E. LEE.—The whole congregation knew, by instinct, the import of the news as this Christian marched to the doors, to his lovely martyrdom, with sense of the reward for his godly life which was about being bestowed upon him. Jeff Davis left the church more rapidly than he joined it.—Harford Post.

AN OPINION FROM OVER THE BORDER.—We extract from the Toronto Globe the following, which is in the tone which the London Times will assume by and by:

The fall of Richmond decides the fate of the Southern rebellion. It is not to be a glorious revolution—successful at first, but destined to fall because based on inadequate motives, and undertaken with inadequate means. Neither to save slavery nor to free itself from the control of the popular majority was the South justified in raising a bloody rebellion, and it has met the legitimate fate of those who draw the sword without cause. It has perished by the sword. There may be some people who will still believe that the rebellion is not dead, and that in woods and swamps and mountains Davis and Lee will yet be heard and felt. Discontent will prevail in the South, suppressed murmurs will be heard, and threats of insurrection should a favorable opportunity occur. But guerrilla warfare against armies of half a million, aided by a large section of the native population, is impossible.

At the Conversazione of the London Pharmaceutical Society of May 15th, Mr. Appold showed some interesting experiments on the freezing of water, and also on the elasticity of iron. In the latter experiment a stout iron ring was provided, several inches in diameter, and of such a substance as to apparently prevent the possibility of its form being in the slightest degree affected by the mere muscular force of one man; an iron rod was placed across the interior of the ring, and fitted in with sufficient tightness to retain its position without other support. Then, placing the apparatus horizontally on a table, by merely pressing with the fingers upon the outside of the ring in a direction transverse to that occupied by the rod, the latter dropped through, proving that a certain amount of alteration had really been effected in the form of the ring by the slight pressure applied.

SUICIDAL SUMMONS.—A barber by the name of O'Neil, working for a Mr. Myers in Virginia, got slightly oblivious a few days since, and caused a dispatch to be telegraphed to his wife, then in San Francisco, to the effect that he had committed suicide. His tearful partner arrived here and found her wedded lord laid out on his bed, but convalescent from the effects of rifle-shot whiskey. Hip! O'Neil's a broth of a boy.—Gold Hill News.

QUITTINE.—The decrease in government has thrown quite a number of young men out of employment, we are informed.

INCENDIARY ATTEMPT.—About 4 o'clock yesterday morning, an alarm of fire proceeding from the dry goods and millinery establishment of Mrs. A. E. Irwin, on the first floor of Roe's Building, B street, a few doors South of Union, brought out the fire ladders with their machines, and No. 4 especially getting soon at work, the flames were subdued before any great amount of damage was done, although the huge quantities of of smoke, issuing from the doors and windows, gave promise of an extensive fire. Chief Engineer Williams, upon looking over the premises, came to the conclusion that there had been foul play, and forthwith caused the arrest of H. Martin Smith—who has had charge of the establishment for the past few months—on a charge of arson. The following are the circumstances as near as we can learn: Philip Stoner occupied a room in the building, and was awakened by Smith, who told him the place was burning up. Stoner at once hurried up, and passed through the salesroom there was no fire there, but recollecting his watch he hurried back and found the room on fire in two places, and Smith still there. From an examination of the premises, it would seem that a fire was started with turpentine in the rear of the building, which is of brick; another, and evident distinct fire, is apparent as having been started in the inside of the building and in the room occupied by Smith. In the front room there were two separate fires started, and on examination before Recorder Meagher, various circumstances strongly indicate that Smith was the incendiary, the incentive to the crime being a desire to obtain the insurance, which amounted to $10,000. He was held to bail in the sum of $15,000 to appear and answer before the next term of Grand Jury.—Virginia Union.

MINERS and mountain men who want to keep the run of everything astir through this Great West, particularly the progress of these central territories, will find the Great Salt Lake and Montana Vedette, daily and weekly, the most entertaining and instructive journal, outside of their own local papers, they can invest an X or a V in. Mr. Goldrick is now up here, soliciting for subscribers for the above interesting paper, and, we hope, will meet with liberal success. Give him a chance and he'll be sure to send you back a splendid spicy paper.—Mining Journal, May 6th.

A GEM FROM "PARSON" BROWNLOW.—"The only way to touch the tender sensibility of the Southern women is to take away her negroes. Kill her husband and she thanks God that he has enabled him to die for the good cause; but take away one of her negroes and she screams and bewails herself as if the devil himself were after her."

It is said that when President Johnson submitted Gen. Sherman's memorandum agreement to the Cabinet, he said: "Gentlemen, this proposition is not debatable, and I only submit it to ask you how it is to be set aside."

THERE is such a thing as sin; and sin is not merely a negation—an absence of good, as people assert—but a positive, yes, a terrible power.

Local Matters.

We are in receipt of a friendly epistle from Cyrus D. Clarke, formerly 1st Lieut. of Co. "H," 2d Cav. Q. V. Mr. Clarke is now a resident of Wayne, Kennebec Co., Maine, and has sent us a subscription for the Vindicator. It is pleasant to hear from our discharged California Volunteers who have settled as good citizens at their homes.

The troops at this post will be reviewed and inspected by Lt. Col. Wm. M. Johns, 8d Batt. Inf. C. V., commanding post, to-day at 9 o'clock A. M. The citizens of Salt Lake City by visiting our camp will have an opportunity of witnessing a splendid parade should the day be fair.

MIKE QUINN gave his second performance at the Camp Theater, on Monday evening last. It was better than the other, if that were possible.

A message from J. H. Nevitt Esq. says he and Mrs. Gen. Connor have reached Green River and that their journey thus far has been very pleasant.

Go and see Martin, the Wizard, at the Salt Lake City Theater, on Friday and Saturday nights. Get your tickets early.

SIGNIFICANT SIGNS.—A lady who has paid some attention to small matters, says she always watches with much interest the ingress and egress of husbands and wives to and from the dining rooms of fashionable hotels. "If," said she, "the wives enter and depart a little in advance of their husbands, be sure they wear the Oh no-we-never-mention-em's. If, on the contrary, the husbands take the lead, you may rest assured they take the lead in everything else." This idea to us is perfectly original, and we shall be somewhat particular hereafter in satisfying ourselves of such significant signs.

A SMASH UP.—This morning, a team containing about a dozen Chinese—men, women and rice—started for the new El Dorado, and when on a steep grade near the Gould & Curry mill, the wagon went over the grade and piled up at the bottom of the ravine in a conglomeration of mass, strange to say, none of the Celestials were injured, but terribly scared. The wagon was stove badly, and the horses breaking loose ran away, and had not been captured up to noon. Hill News.

REGULATION UNIFORM—The intelligence was received yesterday afternoon, by telegraph from the East, that Jeff. Davis had been captured in Georgia, disguised in women's clothing. Those who raised the effigy of Jeff. at the foot of K street several days ago, and had kept it suspended to the flagstaff of the Pacific Railroad Depot, concluded at once that hoops and petticoats and bonnets must constitute the latest style of regulation uniform of the Commander-in-Chief of the Confederate army. They therefore, as soon as practicable, lowered the effigy, adorned it with a military uniform of the style indicated, and raised it again to its former position. Jeff. in his new character attracted a great deal of attention during the afternoon. If there are any among us who demonstrate to the world at some future time that they are members of the superior race and were born to rule, or that the "old concern" is used up, or that they can capture Washington in thirty days and occupy Philadelphia by the Fourth of July, we advise them before doing all this, to take a look at Front and K streets at the man who has already "gone and done it"—President Davis, of the Southern Confederacy. We expect to present but one petition to Andy Johnson during his Presidential term, and that is hereto annexed, viz: that he hang Jeff. Davis on the bona fide limb of a Northern apple tree, and in the identical uniform which he was taken prisoner. The telegraph operator is authorized to telegraph this petition to Washington, and present the bill to either the executor or executioner of Jeff. Davis, as he may deem advisable.—Sac Union.

GEN. BUTLER—President Lincoln is said to have remarked that General Butler has rendered all the service of which he was capable, while General Grant persists that it would be alike an insult to him and a damage to the cause to have "the man who planned the battle of Big Bethel and who saved the lives of his soldiers at Fort Fisher," in a position where his peculiar talents can be exercised again.
